Our Inventory Is Over and Another Big Sale Tomorrow

We know our stock piece for piece and yard for yard. The task of counting is through with. We've left the making of after-inventory prices to our buyers and they have done some deep cutting. They've applied the knife, operated on broken lots and odd things, and made a very successful job in favor of our clientele. The new markings of tomorrow are so different from those of the past week. There's a mountain of merchandise that must find an outlet. There's no chipping here or there---or piece-meal business about this event. Every door, every avenue of exit is thrown wide ajar for this occasion.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

Richard Phillips Accused of Killing a Soldier at Fort Monroe.

A Negro Ball Player and Pugilist Held for the Virginia Authorities---A Private Alleged to Have Been Put to Death by the Athlete---Preparing to Engage in a Prizefight.

Richard, alias "Dick," Phillips, colored, twenty-seven years old, is a prisoner at No. 3 station, where he is held for the Fort Monroe, Va., authorities, who charge the man with murder. He was arrested early yesterday morning, in a house in Kink's Court, between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh and K and L streets northwest, by Policeman O'Brien of the Third precinct.

It is said that Phillips, on January 16, shot and killed John C. New, a soldier of the Fourth Artillery. He denies that he is guilty, and states that Frank Watts, colored, committed the deed. Grant Williams, also colored, whom the Fort Monroe authorities claim was an accomplice of Phillips, is under arrest here. He was taken into custody in Hampton yesterday by Sheriff Curtis. In answer to a telegram received yesterday that an officer would arrive here this morning to take Phillips in charge.

The crime charged against Phillips is said to have been the result of a fight in a negro dive. Phillips and Williams, who is said to have been with him, were taken into custody on an allegation that Phillips had in his possession a Winchester rifle owned by his employer, who conducted a saloon in Phoebus. Phillips worked as a bartender. When the trouble assumed alarming proportions, Phillips, it is said, shot New, killing him almost instantly. He lost little time in making his escape.

After working on the case for several days, the Fort Monroe authorities suspected Phillips of the crime and, learning that he was in Washington, telegraphed here requesting his arrest. Phillips is well known here as a ball player and a pugilist, and the home of his father, in Phillips' Court, was closely watched. Though Phillips did not put in an appearance at the home of his father, information was obtained that he was looking him up at the home in Kink's Court. He claimed after his arrest that he knew the police were after him, and that he had intended giving himself up.

Phillips is well known to the local police, though he has never been regarded as a bad man. At one time he was a member of the celebrated Cuban Giants, a ball team composed entirely of colored players. In later years he figured in athletics, and was regarded as a clever boxer and prize fighter. Frequently he appeared on the stages of variety theatres in exhibition bouts with pugilists of note. It is said that since the killing of New Phillips fought and defeated a colored pugilist. It is further said that he was arranging another bout, which was to have been fought at Roslyn at a near date.

SCHOOLBOYS IN BATTLE.

A Lively Fight With Stones Dismantled to Windows.

Birney Langley, William Turner, Frank Ford and William Lloyd, pupils of the Brent School, and John George, Daniel Ferguson, John Chambers, Jerry Simons, Harrison Brown, Grant Thomas, Albert Barker, William Bullock, Henry Johnson, Charles Turner, and Robert Smith, pupils of the Lincoln School for colored children, were arraigned in the Police Court yesterday on charges of throwing stones. They ranged in age from seven to fourteen years.

During the school recess Tuesday a battle, with stones for ammunition, took place on Third Street southeast, between the boys of the Brent School and those of the Lincoln School. Trouble had been brewing for some time between the lads and when they met Tuesday a lively fight took place. Windows were broken and a number of narrow escapes were reported by pedestrians. The police made arrests which stopped the fight.

Each of the boys was arraigned in court separately yesterday, and, with the exception of one, William Turner, each denied that he had thrown stones. Judge Scott said that the supervisors of the schools were the proper persons to deal with the offenders, and that he intended to dismiss the charges against them, but if the trouble ever occurred again he would send them to jail.

PLEAS OF NOT GUILTY.

Arraignment of Persons Indicted by the Grand Jury.

The persons against whom indictments were returned by the grand jury for the District on Friday were arraigned yesterday before Justice Cole, in Criminal Court No. 2. Every one of the accused pleaded not guilty to the charge preferred against him.

The prisoners and their crimes are: James H. Brown, false pretences; Robert Sims, Sylvester Parker, and Joseph Queenan, larceny; Ollie Winston, second offense petty larceny; Frank Mayo, concealed weapons, second offense; John B. Van Horn, false pretences, two cases; Thomas Ryan and Joseph Holland, housebreaking. The two latter also pleaded not guilty to larceny.

TO SET ASIDE A TAX DEED.

An Inadequate Description Alleged to Invalidate a Title.

Suit was filed in equity yesterday by Agnes De C. Brooks and her husband, John Henry Brooks, against Charles T. Yoder to set aside a tax deed. The title to the property in question was made to Letcher T. Yoder by the District Commissioners in January, 1893, and he afterward transferred it to the defendant.

It is alleged by the complainants that the title to the property is invalid because of the insufficiency of the description set out in the deed of conveyance.

An Alleged Insane Man Arrested. James Rich, colored, twenty-two years of age, who was arrested last night by Policeman Headley, of the Fourth precinct, in Virginia Avenue southwest, near Third Street, is said to be insane. He is charged with carrying concealed weapons and will have a hearing tomorrow in the Police Court. Rich was apprehended during the evening at the Breunig freightyards by the police of the Ninth precinct, but escaped before being lodged in the station. A look-out for him was sent out from headquarters, resulting in his arrest in Southwest Washington.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Annual Meeting of the Teachers' Aid and Annuity Association.

The Organization Convenes in Franklin School Building---Reports of the Financial Secretary and Treasurer---N. P. Gage Chosen President---The Needs of the Society.

The members of the Teachers' Aid and Annuity Association met in the Franklin School Building yesterday morning in continuation of their sixth annual meeting, begun last Saturday. Owing to the fact that matters of much interest were to be discussed, and that an election of officers was to be held, the hall at the Franklin building was well filled with the members of the association.

N. P. Gage, President of the association, was in the chair when the meeting opened. Mr. J. T. Freeman read the report of the financial secretary, which showed the total receipts of the association for the past year to be $42,430.69. The report was accepted without discussion.

After the report of the treasurer, which was similar to that of the financial secretary, two amendments to the constitution of the association were proposed. These amendments dealt with various privileges proposed for retiring teachers, membership, and dues, and after a lengthy discussion they were rejected by the association.

The election of officers was next in order. N. P. Gage was re-elected president; Miss E. C. Westcott and Mrs. S. A. Bradley were elected vice presidents; Miss F. L. Hurdley, recording secretary; Miss F. Freeman, financial secretary; and A. F. Stuart, treasurer. Miss Annie Rogers, Miss A. J. Newmeyer, Miss S. B. Sangler, and B. T. Janney were re-elected as a board of directors, and Miss M. McGill was elected director at large.

Mr. Gage, the president, then made a few remarks regarding the necessity of increasing the permanent fund of the association, and suggested that some entertainment be arranged similar to the "Teachers' Bazaar" given a few years ago.

Constable Gould Censured. In the matter of the rule issued by the Supreme Court of the District requiring Constable W. H. H. Gould to show cause why he should not be removed from office for misconduct in refusing to serve a writ, the court severely criticized the constable in its opinion announced yesterday. The court stated that the constable had no right to make himself a judge of the legality of the process which he was called upon to serve, and which upon its face was not absolutely void. However, as it was the first time in his seven years of service as a constable that complaint had been made against Gould, the court was not disposed to remove him from office.

Amending the Police Regulations.

Attorney Andrew B. Duval submitted to the Commissioners yesterday the draft of an amendment to the police regulations which will extend the limits of police jurisdiction over the discharge of firearms to the entire District. This action was taken at the request of Commissioner Wight and Major Sylvester, in response to a request from E. A. M. Lawson, of Langdon. Mr. Lawson stated that the people of the suburbs in which he lived were often annoyed by the discharge of firearms near their houses and the shot from the guns of hunters had struck several of the houses. The former police regulation on the subject extended only as far as the city limits.
